FOREWORD

The subject and individual index which is found on succeeding pages represents an effort on the part of this committee to provide greater access to information contained in its printed public hearings. This comprehensive index, prepared by the staff of the committee, is a consolidation of the same type of index which has been included in each separately published hearing in the Eighty-second Congress. It is my hope that Members of Congress, their assistants, students in this field, and other interested persons will find this new approach helpful.

J. E. RANKIN,
Chairman, Committee on Veterans' Affairs,
House of Representatives.
